

Khan Academy Summer Math Work Rising 6th Grade - New Students

Twenty topics have been chosen for you to complete on Khan Academy this summer. It is a small portion of what you've learned that is very important to moving forward with 6th grade math. You will receive one point extra credit for each assignment you complete with a score of at least 75%. The assignments should show up on your home screen after you log in or under the assignments tab. If you don't score at least 75% on a topic, that means you could use more work on the topic, and you should redo the assignment.

Ideally you will complete one or two topics a week all summer, but if you decide to do it all in one sitting, that is your choice. If you aren't able to complete the work this summer, then the topics will be your homework during the first two weeks of school in the fall. Completing the work over the summer will not only allow you to start math class in the fall feeling more confident and ready, but you will also have some extra credit points and not as much homework at the beginning of the school year.

To log in to Khan Academy, go to khanacademy.org and click 'login with Google'. Your google id is your lastname . first initial @stjosephgradeschool.com (for example, han.a@stjosephgradeschool.com). Your password is goeagles.

Contact me at ahan@stjosephgradeschool.com if you have any questions.
Enjoy your summer!